WOMEN ARE THE TARGET ON G20 TRAVEL Thousands of women have been queuing for hours outside the hotels where the G20 has gathered. And they are being harassed, threatened and stalked by young men in the city streets. Women's Rights Advocate, Tasayde Haage, says local women feel trapped. The G20 has been accused of letting off steam with sexist behaviour. From the stage in the G20 headquarters, President Obama gave a speech condemning the tactics of those who protest peacefully and decrying what he called "immature" political tactics. (SOUNDBITE) (English) U.S. PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA, SAYING: "There are some who will say they're just following the path of youth. But their leaders don't come to Pittsburgh. They don't come to America. They don't come to Paris. They don't come to Toronto. They don't come to London. They don't come to Hamburg. This is the path of violent extremists. "It's a path that leads to nothing good. It's a path that's helping to fuel resentment and discord. And, most importantly, it's not a path that will make the world a safer and more peaceful place. "And if we are honest, this is a path that's being taken by people who've grown up in isolation from the rest of the world and they're not very interested in coming to an international gathering of this nature." (SOUNDBITE) (English) U.S. VICE PRESIDENT JOE BIDEN, SAYING: "In effect what they're saying is that their violence is more important than everyone's. And what that does is it legitimizes this radical view. It says to those people, 'This is the way. Violence is more important than peaceful dialogue.' So the people of the world have to say this is wrong, and we are going to not stand for that. "And there's only one way to deal with that." (SOUNDBITE) (English) U.S. SENATOR BARBARA BOXER, SAYING: "The guidelines that the Pittsburgh Police Department has set forth are 3da54e8ca3
