ScalpelLab4 is a mathematical software application that helps you perform basic mathematical calculations and that is available for both Windows and Mac OS X. The application has a rather simple graphical interface that has a straightforward interface for managing various options and features. It has a neat database that keeps all the records that you've added and you can sort them on the basis of different options. It also has a user-friendly file system that makes it easier for you to add some formulas and record calculations. The application keeps track of your formulas and other operations that you've performed. You can search through the database using a tag and filter. You also have the option to edit and delete records and to add new records. The application has a built-in basic calculator. You simply need to enter the equation into the box and it will perform all the calculations in no time. You can also use basic constants such as 2, 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, etc. It's not difficult to add any kind of mathematical expression. You can add them directly into the Edit Equation window. The application also allows you to add a pattern into the Edit Expression window. The pattern is used for simplifying the expression and it can be used to reduce the size of any mathematical equation. You can use the application for performing basic calculations and it has some useful features for helping you get better results. More features and tools You can add formulas into the main window and also into a separate formula editor window. The application allows you to manage one-step operators and includes conversions. You can edit the mathematical expression using Cut and Paste. You can even move the expression to another area using drag and drop. You can also type mathematical equations of any length and complexity into the Edit Equation window. The application also keeps a history of all the previous operations that you've performed. The application is available in multiple languages and it allows you to use some of the most popular constants. It also includes a user guide in multiple languages. It's not difficult to use ScalpelLab4. It has a neat user interface that makes it easy to perform any mathematical calculations. ScalpelLab4 is a neat mathematical software application. StarFish is a web-based application designed for performing basic mathematical calculations and for performing quick conversions.
