This time, you have a chance to win a trip to give your best idea about your city a shot. You don't have to make it your job or what you do at your full-time job but just enter your idea on the right form. There are many amazing prizes for you at the end of the competition (although without being world-class as an adventure or role-playing game developer you won't get that). I am including the entry form just in case you want to take part to the conference.

Deadline: 30 september 2017
