need to enable location services in your iPhone if it doesn't work out of the box. Nepali Radios Online- Nepali Radios Online is, as the name clearly states, a software application that lets users listen to certain online radio channels from Nepal. The interface of the program is quite straightforward and easy-to-use. This means that any type of person, whether or not they are experienced, is going to be able to listen to their favorite Nepalese radio station without encountering issues. On the background of the main window the logo of the station you are currently playing is shown. If you are not listening to anything, then the Nepalese flag will be displayed. The gadget has various built-in radio channels that you can listen to, such as Nepal FM, Hamro Radio, Tinau FM and Laibari Radio. A limitation to this program is the fact that it does not support additional stations. In order to make the app easier for you to use, the developers have added a bar from which you can control the volume. In addition to that, there are two shortcut buttons that enable you to play/stop a certain radio station and mute it. When right clicking on Nepali Radios Online, a context menu appears, containing built-in options for all Windows gadgets such as "Move," "Always on top" and "Opacity". The latter lets you modify the level of transparency of the tool from 100% to 20%. All in all, Nepali Radios Online is a small and useful piece of software that enables you to listen to a lot of different Nepalese radio stations. The app is very easy to work with and integrates a lot of efficient features such as a list of channels, volume bar and Play/Stop and Stop buttons. 2. that allows users to listen to radio stations without actually having an iTunes. Once the application is installed and launched, it asks you for the input of a station name that you want to listen to. You can either use the radio stations that come installed with iTunes or you can add more from the application's store. There are two radio interfaces available in the Sleek Radio app. The first one lets you browse through stations by genre and the second shows just the radio stations that come installed with iTunes. You can use either one of them. Sleek Radio offers you the opportunity to listen to online radio stations without actually having a radio on your computer. No connection is required. Moreover, this add-on works smoothly with a wide range of computers and devices. In order to make your life easier, the application comes with a number of improvements such as bookmarking stations, quick channel changing and a large library of stations that you can quickly add to your library. Another useful feature is that the application comes with a few different radio player interfaces. These include the built-in player, Tab Player and the Flashplayer. All of them are equipped with presets that let you listen to a number of stations in a very convenient way. One disadvantage of Sleek Radio is the fact that the application is not available for all devices. For example, it does not work on some Android and iOS devices. Sleek Radio: - Supports Android and iOS (iPhone, iPod and iPad) - It is also available in Japanese - The application is available for both Mac OS and
