FIFA World Championships A new range of trophies for the FIFA World Championships brand, which has been successfully staged in 64 countries since its inauguration in 1953. The trophy range will be available in both bronze and silver versions, and the item's design will mirror the aesthetics of the official FIFA World Championships trophy. MOTD App TeamMates have introduced an app that allows fans to enjoy live match commentary at a favourite location and share their feelings with their friends. The app can be accessed via the TeamMates tab in the in-game menu screen, and it is designed to enhance the in-stadium experience. TeamMates has also created a range of new items, including improved visors for players, and new license plate designs for players and officials. Four New Tournaments In addition to the new FIFA World Football Showcase, there will be a special edition of FIFA Ultimate Team created specifically for the show, while players will be able to take part in the FIFA Legends Cup and FIFA Club World Championship over the coming year. New Player Modeling The arrival of the new Real Player Motion engine brings the emotional language of real-world players into the game for the first time, allowing them to dynamically move across any surface. The engine also provides a wider range of animation options, including more detailed rigging, improved flexibility and more opportunities for robust motion capture. Every player in the game will feature bespoke Character Creator animations, and the ability to choose how and where their hairstyles are worn. Enhanced Precision Control The new Precision Touch controls system provides players with new tactile feedback in gameplay that mimics what they would feel when they play on a living, breathing pitch. The addition of a left-right button on the D-pad allows players to now hold down the specific direction they are controlling. New Content & Feature Additions FIFA's Player Card section has been revamped. The new design of this feature lets you quickly find players with similar attributes, helping you find talented younger players at lower transfer fees. [Bacterial resistance to antibiotics: the key to personalized medicine?]. As is widely known, bacterial resistance to antibiotics is increasing. In the "grey zone" between necessary and unnecessary use of antibiotics, the phenomenon of resistance is spreading beyond its therapeutic level. Such resistance cannot be cured by antibiotics, which were often initially thought to be the only alternative. But a new vision of personalized medicine based on the discovery of the genomic determinants of resistance is coming. It is based on a combination of advanced drugs, new technologies and a fundamental knowledge of the biology of infectious bacteria, which has not been possible before the genomic era.
