I have a problem in finding the integral $\int_{-\infty}^{\infty}\frac{dx}{\cos x}$ I know that cosine is periodic with period 2π , and I also know that if $\cos x$ was a continuous function, I'd be able to say that the integral is $\int_0^{2\pi}\frac{dx}{\cos x}$, but since cosine is not continuous on all of its domain (or at least that is what I've been taught), how am I supposed to solve this integral? A: If the domain of \cos is all of \mathbb{R} (or $[-\pi, \pi]$), then the integral can be evaluated explicitly. The result is well-known and is equal to $\frac{1}{\sin x}$ If the domain of \cos is not all of \mathbb{R} then we can start with a rectangle. If $-\pi \leq x \leq \pi$, then the integral over $[-\pi, \pi]$ is 0
