
Fifa 22 [32|64bit] (April-2022)

PLAYER PROFILE Marek Mintál Age: 28 Position: Left-back Nation: Slovakia Club: FK Bodova International: 78 caps for Slovakia Marek Mintál will be the first name on the teamsheet when the new FIFA comes out, and I think that's a mistake. He's had some good performances - in particular for Cruzeiro against Manchester United - but he's often been out of the team and it hasn't helped that Cruzeiro have basically been playing a 4-2-3-1 formation.
He's a guy who knows the whole width of the pitch and knows exactly where to go when he wants to make a run, but the system he's been playing in has been playing into the hands of his opponents. I'm sure he'll still get his chance because of the quality he has shown in the past, but he's definitely not my choice for the four starting spots. My favourite players: Edin Dzeko - high-energy striker who is always good for a goal and a great finisher (although I prefer a young Iago Aspas for that) Paul Pogba
- powerful midfielder with some great dribbling and a tireless worker Michael Carrick - great midfielder with energy and some experience Aaron Ramsey - a very good player who should really be getting more games to make up for some bad luck with injuries in the past Romelu Lukaku - will take chances that no one else would Striker duos Ronaldo + Messi - Ronaldo is the natural goalscorer but don't underestimate Messi; he's the greatest player the world has ever seen Robert Lewandowski + Michu - Lewandowski is the main striker

but he's not the player you'd place your hopes on to put the ball in the back of the net all of the time Cristiano Ronaldo + Paulo Dybala - Dybala is the more creative player but Ronaldo's ability to take the ball past players and finish is unique Lionel Messi + Javier Pastore - they play as a pair with the older player pulling the strings
Defenders De Gea - THEE

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- Live the Moment Football returns with improved AI, new match and training environments, new atmospheric crowds and goal celebrations, and a host of new single-player story-driven modes.
- Play with Fire New Attack of the Year replacements for each of the four main shooting directions make shooting easier, more reactive and feel more natural. Players also have more control over their movement with a more aggressive shooting style. Net work force with angles at an increased level.
- New Ball Physics Re-engineered satellite dependent on the pitch surface and ambient conditions. Disruption and turbulence from motions in the air, downward force in impact, inner shape of the ball; these all affect the velocity and deform and roll of the ball.
- Intricate New control over all on-field components, including substitution sequence, numbers in line-up and formations, attributes, historical results and more. FIFA 12's Team of the Year will write themselves into your favourite match and create 'experiences'.
- More Glorious New cosmetic rewards such as new Away Kit, new Player Xtra kits, new skill animations and more.
- Players New New Player Traits: Team-first players are now put in safer situations to keep the team playing their most fluent football. They are also encouraged to spend more time pressing high up the field - relaunching attack and unlocking their true attacking potential.
- New Player Camera Optimisations Players are tracked consistently on-field and their movements accurately recorded at all time.
- New Full-size Pitch Environment Fallow has returned as the host stadium for the first time in franchise mode.
- New Training Environment: New grass and dirt surfaces provide more realistic surfaces to practice and hone your skills, whilst more foam walls deliver a more immersive experience
- New and Improved End Game: Spanish and Portuguese rougher grass techniques better simulate the tough, tap-in nature of playing on such fields.
- New Commentary: improved matchday commentary gives even more insight into the game.
- More and New Story-driven Multiplayer Modes - new fan modes (FIFA Fan-Xtreme, Quidditch) and a new online tournament.
- Player Control: New unique control options, with individual footballers implemented into movements.
