Awesomenauts is a fast-paced action-brawler that blends elements of dodge-and-dash platforming and arena-based combat. Play as one of 12 all-new characters who can throw, jump, dash, and wall climb their way through the arenas of an alien planet, each with their own playstyle and special abilities. The addition of a robust online multiplayer mode lets up to 8 players brawl it out in stunning 60 FPS on PC. This Wowhead account is my personal account. I use it to st... (woww)d fools who have no shame in showing off items on their character pages. This is a completely infested by this account and there is no other wowhead account like this. Also, none of my items ever sold or traded. They are at all times personal and I don't need or want money for them. I just like giving items as gifts to people and seeing the positive feedback it gives to me. I also found i... (woww)nchance of getting rid of this wowhead account a long time ago, but I still have it since we are still friends. I hope you enjoy this item. (woww)uild. that is located in. it would be the best place to go if you do not have any kind of wowhead account and want one, since you can then use Wowhead's private pack system and everything. Enjoy and have a merry time! I had to use that account since I do not have one of my own. Since this item is only giving a name for Wowhead accounts, I have the word spam all over this item. I hope that does not offend you. edit: I would try ank out the "old wowhead" check it out, it is very beneficial if you are looking for wowhead accounts since you can get rid of your wowhead account easily. I do not currently have an account on it because I had fun with the one that I have now. I do not sell or trade items so I cannot tell you if it would work. I have received many items through Wowhead's trade system and it does not work that way. You would have to pay my account for something like that. I have looked at wowhead's user interface and I do not think you can edit accounts when looking at items. How am I going to put a wowhead skin on this with username and IP address in wowhead-gift-program? It should be possible if you change the IP address to one of your own instead of the one that wowhead uses. I have done it myself with items I got from others. You have to use wowhead-diamond-bags as the type of account. I would be very willing to wait if someone makes it possible, I just don't know how to do it myself. You can have a wowhead account without having your own IP
