I know this has been around awhile, but I found it in my blog list and thought I would share it. *I first found this tutorial back in 2006 when I needed to upgrade my workstation at work. Everything I needed was easy to install in wine, except for one annoying thing: The pen tool would not save the image it was working on. I suspect that was the Gimp plugin for photoshop, because pen tool on photoshop works fine. What did I do? I opened the wine menu, opened the winetricks and entered -no-tables. There was a small icon to the left of the "tool" icon, so I clicked it and clicked ok. I now have a nice pen tool and the images still save fine in the Gimp.Q: How to make a radial gradient that is at least half transparent I'm looking for a way to make a radial gradient that is at least half transparent I noking for a way to make a radial gradient that is at least half transparent I'm looking for a way to
