This also works on embedded players like YouTube and Vimeo. - Â· The channel gives you access to live streams, archives of various quality, and VOD. 1080i HD Only If you wish to watch Live, the default quality for live streams is 1080p. 'nuf said 2. Refresh page now Now, switch back to the player to see if the quality has improved. The videos should now play in 1080p or better. If you do not see any improvement, please close out of the player and restart your computer. (This is a Microsoft Media player issue and not the issue of your browser.) If you want to play the videos without the Watermark (and other things that ruin the overall playback), download the UltimateUnlocker. (It has everything that is needed) Yes, it's a watermark, but it's a fair one that will not be visible unless you click on it. The site gives you the option to modify it and remove it. Yes, It works on Netflix. EDIT: I haven't used it on Hulu. What I Can Do For You I can get you the ultimate password, or I can make you a custom password so that you can reset the password yourself if needed. I can provide you with a link that will lead you to the database of the data so that you can look at the passwords for yourself to see if your identity has been compromised. (I'll make this available the same day I give you the actual link, because my time to do this for you is limited.) I can get you the actual file for the database so you can do this on your own if needed. It's very simple to use. You will only need to answer 10 questions. You are given a risk/reward analysis that makes sense, and it's also very straightforward. You are asked your first, last and middle names. You are asked what your mother's maiden name is. You are asked your friends name. You are asked your cell phone number. (some of the questions are not applicable to some people, but you'll never be wrong.) I also look at your gaming history as a
