]]> 11:00:20Welcome to the GAC which provides a forum for the discussion of the issues surrounding the use of genetically modified organisms (GMOs) by farmers and consumers. GMOs, which are defined as "living organisms that have had the genetic material manipulated using methods such as biotechnology," are already being used in many food products, and their use is expected to increase in the future. The GAC provides a place for everyone to share information regarding GMOs and GMO-related issues. Objectives of the GAC The GAC is a nonprofit, educational forum for the free and open exchange of information and ideas. The GAC encourages research, the exchange of knowledge, and education regarding GMO use in agriculture. The GAC supports consumer participation in the decision-making process regarding whether or not to use GMO crops in agriculture, either through individual action or by communicating with others. The GAC supports government efforts to provide adequate labeling and other regulatory measures to assist consumers in making these decisions. The GAC supports the responsible and ethical use of GMOs in agriculture in order to ensure food safety. The GAC does not accept advertising and does not charge membership fees. It is a volunteer, not-for-profit corporation. No one is forced to participate. Membership How to join If you would like to become a GAC Member, please click on the link for the appropriate membership category and follow the instructions. How to edit your profile It's easy to change your profile information, just click on the logo at the top right of your name in the GAC homepage: and then click Edit Profile. What do I do if I have a question? Please feel free to ask a question. One of our moderators will try to answer it for you. We don't always have time to answer questions, but if there's something in the forum that interests you, you can post a question and/or comment on the thread. Questions can also be asked directly in the comments section. How does the GAC decide what to post? The GAC Postings Guidelines can be found here. The GAC Rules can be found here
