i threw the vantage pro update in to give you an idea of what you are getting with the modis update: essentially you get both the solus/solus pro and vantage pro 8.4 updates rolled into one. there was a time where you could get subsequent updates at a reduced price if you always stayed current, but i think that is no longer the case as of november 2008.i hope that helps. hi, thanks for your reply about these update problems im having, looked at those links about updates, i live in the uk and was wondering where else i can get these updates from, surely my dealer in his van is not the only person. the selection of the latest/stable channel is also possible by means of manual selection. snapd communicates with the channel in order to get the latest versions of the software. it is then required to create a channel for a specific version of the software by means of a special command. the software will be installed on the selected channel. snapd then, automatically, connects to the channel in order to update the software. if the update is successful, snapd will notify the user. snapd will also update the channel list to the newly available software versions. the user can then manually update the application by choosing the latest/stable channel and then choosing the specific version of the software to be installed. in the case of an emergency, the latest/unstable channel is available. this channel provides the most recent versions of the software, but it is not recommended to use it unless the publisher makes it available. the channel is automatically updated when it receives new versions of the software. in this case, snapd automatically updates the channel to the latest version and then installs the software.
