

Islamization Of Pakistan Iqbal Zafar Pdf 36

Pakistan has the capability to be a threat to the world because of its strategic location in the heart of the Islamic world and the Arab world. The US is vulnerable to all other powers in the world who are seeking to have hegemony in the world and for Pakistan to play this role, America has to be less vigilant and confident of Pakistan. On the contrary, the entire Arab world, especially the Saudis are far-sighted in their defense strategy and look forward to Pakistan as a potential threat. If the entire Middle East is busy with its internal and regional problems, then no one will pay attention to them. Pakistan is aware of this and in hopes of benefiting from these problems, Pakistan has tried to play its cards, introducing them to the US. But Pakistan failed to use this weakness as a spring to its own benefit and was humiliated when its relationship with Saudi Arabia deteriorated even more. If its neighbors are more focused on their own problems, then no one will look at them. If Pakistan can play the role of a US ally, then no one would pay attention to them. To do it, Pakistans strategy was laid down in the wake of 9/11. Its policy of neutrality was meant to give more scope to regional power groups and to enable Pakistan to follow its own course without being drawn into the conflicts and divisions that Pakistanis wished to ignore. Unfortunate as it may be, Pakistani foreign policy since its independence has often had the effect of uniting Pakistanis behind the flag rather than dividing them along their provincial lines. It was a duty, which Pakistan had to perform to the Muslim world. 31
