VeryPDF PDF Text Replacer is an easy to use application which makes changes with text and images. It only makes changes on PDF files but shows the progress of every action in its status bar and saves changes in an output location. Great features: VeryPDF PDF Text Replacer is easy to use application which makes changes with text and images. It only makes changes on PDF files but shows the progress of every action in its status bar and saves changes in an output location. Input: In the beginning, PDF files must be added to the application. You don't have to only add the files one at a time, there can be multiple files added simultaneously. The changes can either be made on one file or on all of them at once. These modifications can be selected according to position or content and the text can be replaced with something written or with images. Basically, you have to add a few rules. You introduce the words you want to change and assign them the ones you want to replace them with. Before you make the changes, make sure you have selected the output folder, where the modified document will be placed. After making a change, the rules can be cleared, so you don't have to redo the steps all over again. Within the program, there is a progress status bar (at the bottom of the application). It is a great addition to the program, showing how the changes occurred and if there were any issues during the process. Also, in the top side of the main window, is shown the name of the file, the number of pages, the size of the file and if the process succeeded.
