Advertisement After upgrading to Windows 10, your computer may slow down a bit, especially when you open new programs, navigate around your desktop and perform system searches. This is due to the fact that certain system files are being updated. To resolve this, follow the steps below to reset your RAM cache. Open the Start Menu and type "cmd" into the search box. Right-click on the "Command Prompt" icon. Select "Run as Administrator". Type the following command in the "Command Prompt" window: rd /s /q C:\Windows\ Close the Command Prompt window when done. To prevent this from occurring again, follow these steps. Open the Start Menu and type "cmd" into the search box. Right-click on the "Command Prompt" icon. Select "Run as Administrator". Type the following command in the "Command Prompt" window: rd /s /q C:\Windows\ Close the Command Prompt window when done. Windows 10 Error Error 002: Your system is probably out of date. If that's the case, this is what you need to do to fix this annoying bug on your PC: Click the Windows logo on the Start Screen to open the Start Menu. Type "regedit" into the search box and press Enter. 79a2804d6b
