The whole matter of how the engine was mounted above the heatsink, and why the insulation layer was in the way, is the sort of thing that can't be easily checked by workers in the factory. The machines used to press the insulation sleeve in place also imprinted the exact configuration of the insulation as it was being pulled through the machine. If the insulation was no longer in the same condition as it was when the sleeve was made, I assume the insulation might be suspect.

1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a portable terminal such as a cellular phone, a data processing terminal, or the like which is carried by a person or accommodated in a vehicle to be operated by the person or in the vehicle to be used, and relates to an input device used in the terminal.

2. Description of the Related Art Since an increasing number of people have portable terminals such as cellular phones or the like, it has become more difficult to communicate in everyday life. In particular, it has become difficult to communicate with business partners or the like at a site remote from the office or home. To this end, as a means of improving the communication, there is known a method of always carrying a portable terminal. In this method, however, there is caused a problem that the communication data is lost when the portable terminal is lost or stolen. To solve this problem, a method is proposed in which call information for an urgent call is displayed in place of call information in the ordinary call mode. Such a technology has been disclosed, for example, in Japanese Patent Application Laid-open No. 2002-154034. However, the above-mentioned conventional technology cannot cope with a case where the portable terminal is carried by a person. For example, if the portable terminal is carried by a person, the portable terminal may be carried so that the display unit and the input unit are arranged at different positions, so that it is not possible to display both the screen image of a specific application and the input screen image of the touch panel at the same time.
